A Guide To Searching Government Registries

Corporate Registries

Both the federal and provincial governments can incorporate not-for-profit organizations and they both maintain registries of those organizations that they have incorporated. At several places we suggest that you might want to do a search of either or both government registries and/or contact them by phone:

- To find out if an organization is incorporated
- To find its corporate numbers
- To get a copy of its constitution (In Saskatchewan this is comprised of the Articles of Incorporation and the Certificate of Incorporation)
- To find out if its constitution has been amended
- To get a copy of any amendments to the constitution that have been filed
- To find its registered office

If you know where your organization was incorporated you only need to search the registry for that level of government. However, if you are not sure whether your organization was incorporated provincially or federally, you may need to search both registries.

Registry of Charitable Organizations

All charities must be registered with the Canada Revenue Agency to receive charitable tax benefits and to issue tax deduction receipts. To find out if your organization is a registered charity, search the Registry of Charitable Organizations.

Corporate Registry

Saskatchewan

Organizations incorporated under Saskatchewan statutes are registered in the Government of Saskatchewan Corporate Registry. The Corporate Registry contains information on corporations, cooperatives, non-profit corporations, and trade names registered in Saskatchewan. Corporate Registry keeps track of the organization's status based on annual returns or other documents that it requires organizations to file from time to time. These include a change in the organization's directors or its registered office.

The Saskatchewan Government Corporate Registry website at <https://www.corporations.justice.gov.sk.ca/welcomessl.asp> has a great deal of information about the province's Corporate Registry, access levels and fees. You may find it helpful to browse the site for more information. If you do not have access to the Internet or you require information or documents that are not available online you can call the Saskatchewan Registry. See the first page of this guide for contact information.

Conducting a Search of the Saskatchewan Corporate Registry

- A basic search of the registry, based on a fee of $2.00 fee for every name searched, will yield a list of similar names with limited information – entity number, status, and type.
- If you need additional information such as the names of the directors or owners, you may create and print an entity profile report for a fee of $3.00.
- In addition, you may order copies of documents (such as the Articles of Incorporation or and amendments to these, the Certificate of Incorporation and Annual Returns) or order a Certificate of Status.

Federal

The registry of federally incorporated not-for-profit corporations is maintained by Industry Canada. The Federal Corporations Data On-Line system allows users to search the Federal Corporations Database free of cost.

Conducting a Search of the Corporations Data On-Line

You or anyone else can do a search of the registry

- To find out if an organization is incorporated
- To find your organization's corporate number
- To find out if it has been filing its annual reports and annual summaries
- To find its registered office

It will be more efficient for you if you do your searches all at once.

- Do a list of all searches you need.
- The database can be found on the Industry Canada website at Resources for Businesses, Company Directories. www.ic.gc.ca
- Searches can be performed by Corporate Number, name, creation date, city, province, corporation status or Act.
- If you do not have access to the Internet see Corporations Canada (Industry Canada) contact information on the first page of this guide.

Obtaining a copy of incorporation and related documents

To obtain a copy of a federally incorporated not-for-profit's constitution (Letters Patent and by-laws) and any amendments, fax your request to Corporations Canada (Industry Canada) at 1 (613) 941-5789. As of the time of writing, the cost for this is $1/page. These charges may be paid by credit card. To do so, include the credit card number, expiry date, and name of cardholder in the fax.

Canada Revenue Agency – Charities Directorate

The Charities Directorate of the Canada Revenue Agency maintains a list of over 80,000 charities registered with the CRA. The list includes the name of the charity, Business Number (BN)/Registration Number, mailing address, designation type, category code, and – when available – the charity’s annual information returns starting with the 2000 T3010A, Registered Charity Information Return.

Conducting a Search of Canadian registered charitable organizations

You or anyone else can do a search of the registry

- To find out if your organization is a registered charitable organization
- To find out if it is in good standing
- To find its contact information for the purposes of receiving notices from the CRA

To search the online directory go to www.cra-arc.gc.ca. Searches can be conducted using the charity name, Business Number(BN)/Registration Number or other fields. Instructions about searching the list are available on the site.

In addition to the list of all Canadian registered charities who are in good standing, the Charities Directorate now gives you online access to

- newly registered charities (within the last 12 months) and
- recently revoked charities (within the last 12 months).

If you do not have access to the Internet see the Charities Directorate contact information on the first page of this guide.
